MREC is established with the aim of providing high quality technical education through constant innovation and academic excellence. It offers courses in the disciplines of CSE, AI&ML, IOT, Cyber Security, Data science, EEE, ECE, ME, IT Civil, Mechanical, and Mining Engineering. MREC offers five M.Tech. Programmes and MBA programme. MREC(A) has an impressive on-campus recruitment record with many leading corporate regularly visiting and recruiting students.

Department Of Mining Engineering

Mining Engineering started in 2013 with an intake of 60 students per batch. So far three batches of students have passed out and employed in various reputed organizations throughout the country. The Department is the biggest in terms of the faculty strength in the entire South India. The ten faculty members are drawn from Academics, Research, Industry and Central Government Regulatory Bodies, which is an excellent blend of experienced and youngsters with a good number of them with Ph.D. qualification. The faculty have the experience of carrying out research and consultancy works for the past more than 30 years. The department is continuously striving to improve the quality of education offered to the students by also exposing them to various additional activities like Seminars, Conferences, Workshops, Guest Lectures, Industrial Visits, Industrial Training, On-line training programmes, Short-term courses in the mining and related areas, etc

Seminar

Mining, which was once upon a time considered as art, has developed leaps and bounds over the last seven to eight decades to extract minerals sustainably from greater depths and also under difficult geo-mining conditions. This helped starting of Mining Engineering Departments in Government and private sector at post-graduation, graduation and diploma levels to supply quality human resources to suite to the diversified requirements of various fields, like mining industry, academia, research, equipment and explosive manufacturers, mining software developers, Government regulatory bodies like DGMS, IBM, etc. In addition, this education also helps graduates/students to become eligible to write Central and State government service commission examinations. Many graduates use this qualification as spring board to join higher education institutions in reputed institutions in India and other advanced countries.

This seminar is a common platform for the students to assimilate the various opportunities available to them to come up with flying colours in their careers with a wonderful takeoff. Experts from various fields of mining and allied engineering are going to educate the students from their own personal experiences, what the recruiting companies expect from the students in campus recruitment drives.

Outcomes

1. Get awareness about various avenues of employment for Mining Engineers
2. Tips for preparing for competitive examinations (including GATE) and interviews
3. Subjects on which to concentrate based on the company and its nature of operations.
